

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Evening.—Great crowds of the Garde Mobile and citizens carrying French and American flags, made a demonstration before the American Legation to-day, showing their gratitude for the recognition of the French republic by the United States. Washburn's letter to Favre gives great satisfaction. The people are persuaded that the American government will interfere with Favre for peace.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Pope still retains the services of his Legationaries, though the Italians are rapidly preparing to enter the Papal States.

The Pall Mall Gazette's Paris correspondent says Lord Lyons, Chevalier Nigra and the Italian Minister at the French Capital are about going to the King's headquarters to negotiate a suspension of hostilities.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Part of Lorraine and all of Alsace will probably be demanded of France. The western frontier must commence at Esch, on the border of Luxembourg, flanking the Moselle about ten miles from its western bank, and crossing the Moselle at Curney, half way between Metz and Point a Mousson, then following the course of the Moselle and Meurthe, ten miles from the eastern bank of the latter, to Mount Dopou. The southwestern frontier will embrace the Upper and Lower Departments of the Rhine, comprehending Alsace, Saarburg, Sargemont, Metz, Thionville, Chateau Sileis, Palsburg, Bitsche, and Weissenburg.

FLORENCE, Sept. 8.—Victor Emanuel announces his ability to maintain order everywhere, including the Papal States if necessary.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Under instructions from this Government, Minister Washburn yesterday recognized the new Government in France and tendered the congratulations of the President on the establishment of a Republic.

Not a single French flag was captured at Sedan. They were all burned before the capitulation.

Strategists are puzzled at the abandonment of the siege at Montmedy.

The French Consul at Basle telegraphs that in the sortie from Strassburg ten thousand Prussians were killed, and many guns captured.

The Prussians attempting to cross the border near Port Austerlitz were absolutely annihilated by mitrailleuses, which were posted at Port de Pecheurs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A special dispatch to the Telegram from Paris says that the city is unusually quiet, but wears an appearance of earnestness and determination under the constant rumors of the approach of the Prussians. The determination to defend the city has become more universal. All classes share this feeling, which is becoming hourly more fervid.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Minister Washburn forwards a dispatch to the President, announcing that he had obeyed his instructions and communicated to the officers of the French Republic the President's congratulations on the formation of the Government. He states that the wildest enthusiasm prevailed in Paris when the announcement was made by the French officials.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A Washington special to the Tribune says the President is openly and avowedly in favor of maintaining the French Republic. He said to-day, "I have hastened to give the new Republic our moral support, and hope, before the week is out, she will need nothing further. I think the Prussian King may be induced to stop fighting."

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Favre declined the services of the Orleans Princes, and begged them to quit the city, for fear of complications.

It is reported that McMahon is still alive, and that his wound is not necessarily mortal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A special telegram from Paris says the Prussians are advancing rapidly. The cavalry is within ten miles of the fortifications. They have cut the Northern railway. The main body of the Prussian army is thirty miles distant.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Trochu has issued a proclamation ordering all members of the Garde Mobile to their posts of honor. The defense of the ramparts has been entrusted to them.

Favre's reply to Washburn has been published. He considers it a happy augury that the first recognition should come from the United States, whose Constitution is founded upon independence and civil virtue.

The Sicle concludes that all the Prussian reserves will be summoned for the siege. It says this is the reason for the creation of seventy-six new squadrons of cavalry, and adds: "It is time France had also organized her cavalry."

The moats around Paris have been filled.

TROYES, Sept. 9.—The Prussians passed Vitry-le-Francois yesterday. Their scouts make enormous requisitions on the surrounding country.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The English iron-plated steamer, Captain, was lost off the coast of France. All on board, 500 persons, were lost.

The Duke de Gramont is in London, having escaped via Havre. He converses freely. He says the revolutionary government cannot last. All the recent tests, he says, prove that its members have not the confidence of the people. The men now in power are those whose efforts heretofore have been directed to embarrass the real Government, and assure the failure of the war. Republican agents were constantly endeavoring to shake the confidence and destroy the discipline of the army. He attributes the loss of several battles to this cause, and does not see how foreign governments can recognize the Republic. Tomorrow, another batch might get up and declare themselves a Provisional Government and involve the city in bloodshed. He considers such a result more than probable, if arms are placed in the hands of the lower classes. The first new reverse on the approach of the Prussians before the city might be the signal for the overthrow of the present self-constituted Ministry and the creation of a new government. He confides in Trochu, but apprehends that he will not be permitted to have his own way. He believes France fully prepared to vindicate her honor and expel the Prussians from her territory. He declines to express his opinion as to the future fate of the Emperor or his dynasty. Gramont had a long interview with Gladstone and Granville.

There seems to be but one sentiment among the people—defense of the nation. Organization is quietly proceeding.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Mayor Hall to-day received a dispatch from the Mayor of Paris, announcing the formation of the French Republic. Flags were at once displayed on the City Hall in honor of the event.

The following proclamation has been issued to the army:

"When a general compromises his command, he is relieved. When a government puts in peril, by its own weakness, the public safety, it is set aside. This is just what France is doing in abolishing a dynasty which is responsible for all our misfortunes. She has done boldly, in the face of all the world, this great act of justice. She executes a decree under which all your conscripts have been summoned, and in the same act secures the public safety. To save itself, the nation needs but to rise on mass, and henceforth to count on two things only—its own resolution, which is invincible, and your own heroism, which has never had its equal, and which amidst unmerited reverses has astonished the world. Rally around that glorious symbol which, eighty years ago, drove back all Europe united before us. As at that time, the name of Republic signifies the intimate union of the army and people for the defense of the country."

The instructions to Lord Lyons, the English Minister at Paris, are to recognize the acting government, but to avoid, so far as possible, a formal recognition.

LATER.—The English Government, in connection with other neutral Powers is about appealing to Prussia to conclude peace on the following basis: The French territory to remain inviolate, France to pay to Germany the expenses of the war, the general disarmament of France and the destruction of the forts in Alsace and Lorraine. It is believed these terms will be acceptable to the Republic.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The King of Prussia has given orders to treat the Emperor Napoleon as the sovereign of France.

Lord Lyons' visit to the King's headquarters is denied.

A correspondent of the Standard, writing from Paris, says that the Prussians, with their 600,000 men, cannot successfully besiege Paris.

The casualties of the war number 400,000, more than half being either dead or maimed for life.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A Prussian force of 40,000 passed Vitry-le-Francois, nineteen miles southwest of Chalons, to-day.

The Prussians were at Soissons-sur-Aisne last night.

It is said that the Prussians hold Chateau Thierry and Epernay.

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—The following intelligence from the Prussian headquarters at Rheims, last night, has been received to-day: More than 25,000 prisoners were captured in front of Sedan before the capitulation, and 83,000 capitulated with Sedan. Of these 14,000 were wounded. There were 400 field pieces taken, including 70 mitrailleuses and 100 siege guns, besides 19,000 horses and an immense amount of war material.

A number of fine houses around Paris have been burned by order of the authorities.

The Secretary of the Bank of France says the crown jewels are not there.

The afternoon papers report that the commandant of Laon opened the gates of the city on the demand of the Prussians, and when the Prussian officers and soldiers were well inside fired a mine, blowing up the citadel and killing and wounding many of the enemy.

Large numbers of the Garde Mobile continue to arrive.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 10.—At the present pace of the army, the Prince Royal and Prince of Bavaria should be in designated positions around Paris on Wednesday. From these points they will slowly close in around the French fortifications.

A Prussian force was at Campagne this morning.

GREENVILLE, Sept. 10.—In the Democratic Congressional Convention held here to-day, the two-thirds rule being adopted, nine ballots were had without resulting in a choice. The last ballot stood: A. The Only Perfect Grain Drill in the World!!

Guarantee in Distribution, accuracy in Measurement of Seed used, and proceeding more facilities and convenience of adjustment to quantity, and practical operations in the field, than any other Drill manufactured.

The Only Grain Drill Having a Double Set of Distributors.

Which, without adding any weight, gives the Farmer two Drills in one. One seeding wheat, rye or buckwheat in large or small quantities, the other seeding oats, barley, corn, peas and other coarse grain with equal accuracy without clogging, shipping or breaking of seed. The only Drill which throws out of gear by the automatic action of the Table Lifter, and covers all the seed distributed. Has

The Only Really Practical, Durable Spring Tube in the Market.

"IT HAS THE BEST FERTILIZING ATTACHMENT IN USE."

And which for years has held the first position in all localities where guano, bone dust, lime and super-phosphate are used. Sows all these fine fertilizers as well as ashes, plaster and salt perfectly. Whether it be dry or damp, it puts the fertilizer used in the drills with the grain, thus giving it the entire and immediate benefit of the fertilizer used. By a recent improvement, we put this under the immediate control of the operator, enabling him to use his fertilizer on the barren portions of his field, and husband it upon the fertile parts. The GUANO ATTACHMENT must be ordered with the Drill, if desired, as it cannot afterwards be attached.

Metal or Rubber Grain Funnel, as desired. Double Reversible Steel Points on Tubes.

Broad Faced Wheels and Wrought Iron Axles.

Acknowledging in the decline of prices of farm produce, and the closeness of financial matters among our patrons, the justice of their claim for a corresponding reduction in the price of farm implements, we have determined to reduce the price of Grain Drills to the old standard of 1860.

Confidently a discriminating public will appreciate our effort, and avail themselves of this "golden opportunity" to secure one of these most useful labor-saving implements at old prices, while labor still ranges at a war standard we have established the following prices for Drills, delivered on board boat or cars at Baltimore:

4 Tube Grain Drill.....$85 5 Tube Grain Drill, with Guano Attachment.....$120

9 Tube Grain Drill.....90 9 Tube Grain Drill, with Guano Attachment to either the above.....10

8 Tube Grain Drill, with Guano Attachment.....115 8 Tube Grain Drill, with Guano Attachment.....10

Our 8 and 9 Tube Drills all have the tubes 8 inches apart.

Tubes put in a line or zig-zag, as desired by the purchaser, without any extra charges.
